

ADDITIONAL FIGURES – CHAPTER 9

Grounds of Appeal by way of case stated

Wrong in Law

- The magistrates' court misapplied the law.
- The magistrates' court admitted evidence that ought to have been excluded/ excluded evidence that ought to have been admitted..

Excess of Jurisdiction

- The magistrates' court heard a case for which they did not have jurisdiction.